Project: Commercial Catering Kitchen
Flooring System: Trowelled Resurfacer
Results: All work was performed while customer was in operation. This scope of work was completed at various sites for this particular customer. After preparation by shotblasting, the quarry tile floor was resurfaced using novalac troweled epoxy mortar, including integral troweled cove base. The walls were coated with a 100% solids epoxy coating. The customer did not like the grout seams in the existing quarry tile floor. The finished floor was entirely seamless and sanitary.
